Alright, where do I like to start? So, this game is a simple style game with different bosses in each level. But, I think the game lacks in some areas where the music cuts off for a brief second and then it just comes back on again. I do not know if it is part of the game to be like that, but I do like it to be continuous or I should say, different styles of songs to fit the current level the player is on. This game is a great little time waster and you can play lots of levels and some are a bit difficult, but that's just me.. This game could have blow, if the devs keep up the good work!
